FOURTH EDITION

FIRST-YEAR COURSE

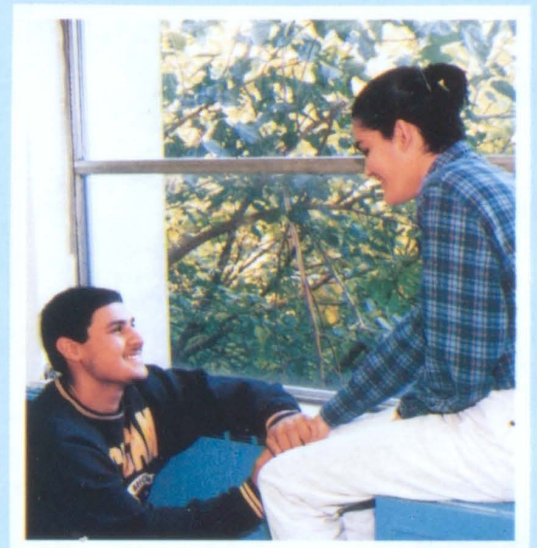

We entered Barringer starry eyed. We were so excited to finally leave the Prep behind, and take our place as high school students. Although we had no idea what our future held, it was quickly understood that we had to get down to business. There were people depending on us to graduate, and we were determined not to let them down.

Some of the fondest memories in life are the struggles that we all experienced during our high school years. We reminisce about the obstacles that at the time, appeared unsurmountable: cramming for an important history exam, burning the midnight oil to complete that English paper, or finishing that science homework assignment just before class. These barriers that we surpassed are the memories that will last a lifetime.

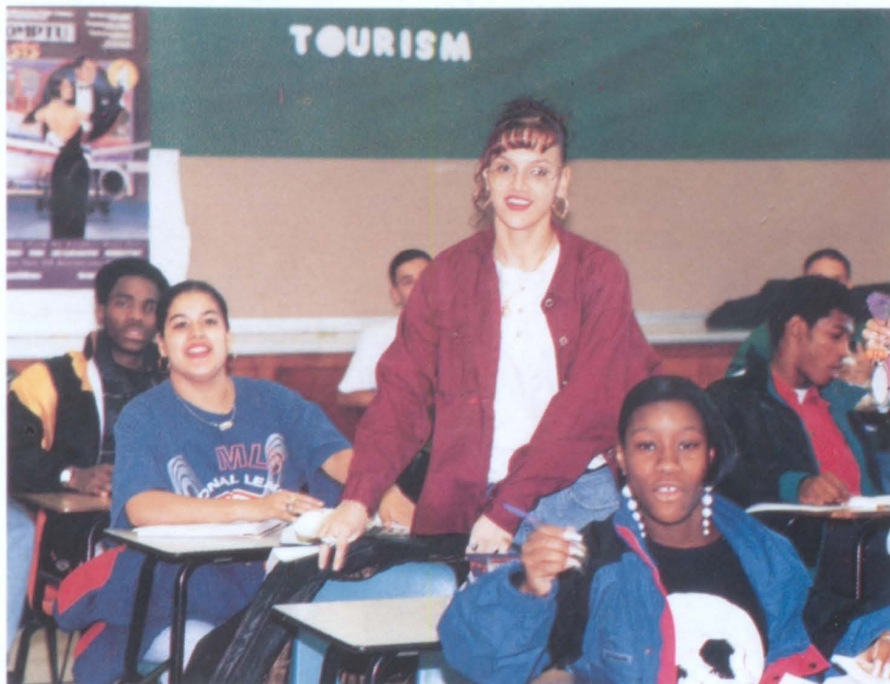

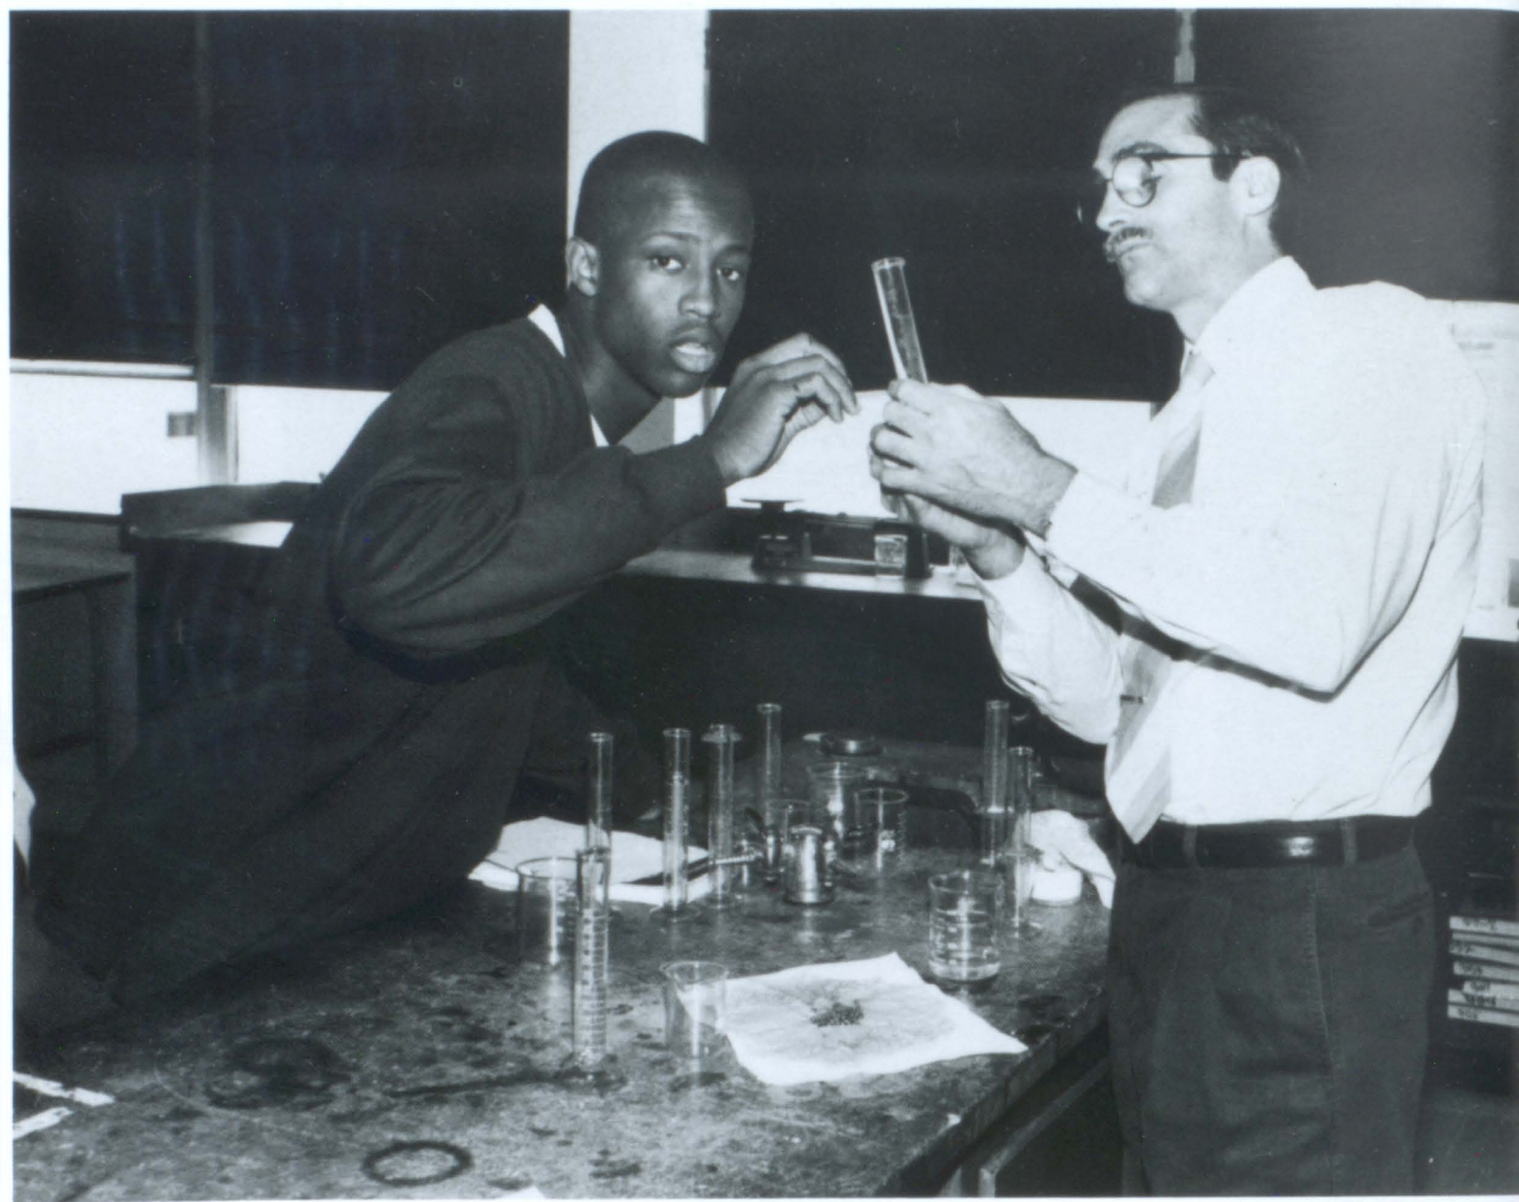

As we take those final steps for our diploma, we reflect on those individuals who influenced us to pursue our dreams. We will never forget them, because they helped make our success a reality. Our mothers, fathers, ministers, teachers and friends will always be a part of our memories that will last a life time.

Thank god for lunch! It gave us a break in the day, when we could hang out with friends. The girl's conversation usually centered on guys, while the boys discussed inflated love encounters with the opposite sex. But when it came to eating, we did fine on grilled cheese and Pepsi from the local stores. The good times we shared during that daily 45 minute period, are memories that will last a lifetime.

Our lives were always scheduled. Get up from bed, go to school, catch the bus to work, or go to an after school activity, and then eventually return to the place we know best: our home. Of course waiting for us were the people we always took for granted, who cared the most, and are very proud of our accomplishments. The thoughts of our moms and/or dads chasing us off to school, or making sure we completed our homework will last a lifetime.

We learned about coming of age, and the opposite sex. The glances across the classroom, the greetings between the passing of classes, the discussions at the lockers, and eventually came the phone calls and handholding in the hallways. That one special someone that we shared those precious moments with are memories that will last a lifetime.

MEMORIES

As time passes and memories come and go, one thing will always remain - the power of a long lasting friendship. Years after the class of 95 celebrates it's final hurrah, alumni will reflect on the memories of their classmates. One person will always stand out. That one person who you could always tell your inner-most secrets, or who you knew would always stand by you - a friend. The memories of that friendship will last a lifetime.

Day in and day out, we dragged our tired bodies to class. We forced our sleepy minds to listen, as our teachers tried to instill in us a knowledge of ourselves, and the world around us. It was not until we were ready to graduate that we suddenly realized that the many hours of homework, the time invested in studying for exams, essays, and research projects were to prepare us for our role as leaders of the future. Although many assignments were completed, and some more were left undone, the memory of our remarkable teachers, and their lessons, will last a lifetime.

During the year, many different events take place in the school. One of the most exciting activities is the homecoming game. This is the place to be if you want to see the band "strut their stuff", or if you want to see Barringer Blue Bears football team try to conquer another teams dignity. You also get to see the crowning of the royalty. For those of you who want to check out the cheerleaders you can see them at the homecoming game. The homecoming game is fun and exciting.

Senior Pictures

A special event for most seniors would have to be the week of having graduation pictures taken. It is a special event because it makes you finally realize that graduation is right around the corner as if you haven't realized it yet. Picture day is also the time when you take pictures to show your friends how you looked in your last year of high school.

If you want to locate most of the senior class, you'll be sure to find them at the Homecoming and Reggae dances. In October of 94 the Senior class sponsored the Homecoming dance to crown the Queen, Shamika McKinnon. It was also to welcome students back to school. In December, the class held the Reggae party where students witnessed a lot of "shakin" going on.

College Fair

The most difficult time that a Senior encounters in high school is choosing the college of his/her choice. Seniors will tell you from experience that there is a lot of decisions to weight and figure - like determining your major. Barringer's guidance has tried their best to lighten the weight by hosting a College Fair for Seniors with college prep-courses.

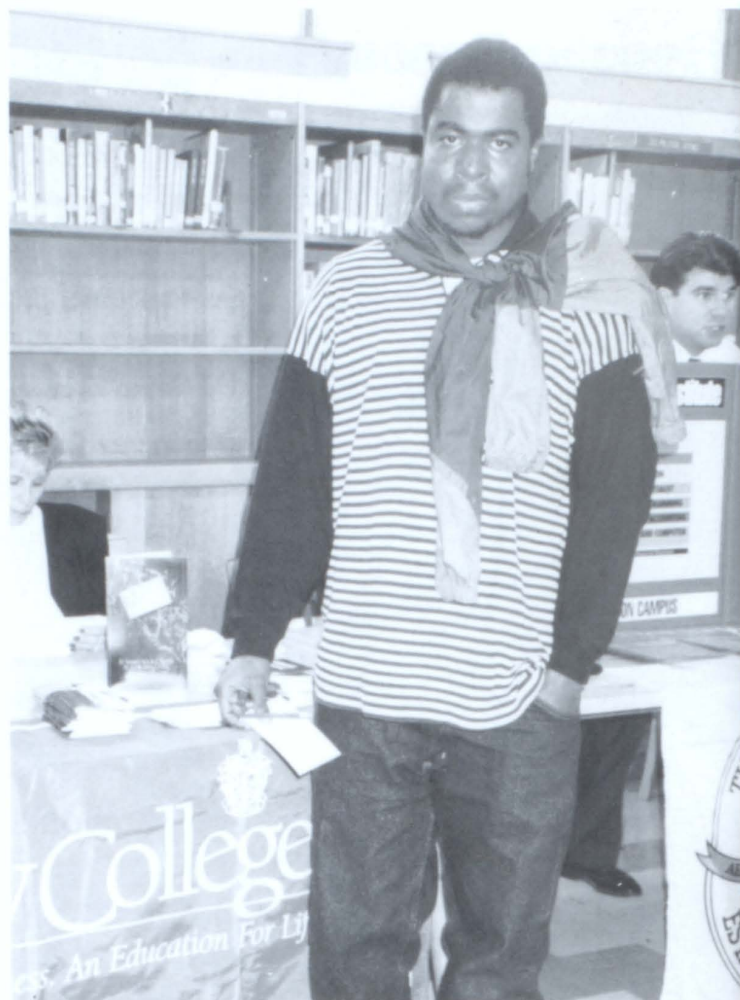

The library was packed with interested students. Some of the colleges which attended were Seton Hall, Rutgers, William Paterson, Trenton State, Upsala, Bloomfield, Lincoln Tech, Drew and Fairleigh Dickinson.

The Heart to Heart Dance held on February 10, 1995 was formed as a Valentine fundraising event for the Senior Class Committee, and the Student Council. The cafeteria, which offered plenty of room for dancing and care-free enjoyment, was jumping as seniors rocked the house. All who attended this outstanding event, left with a smile.

Travel And Tourism

The Travel and Tourism Program here at Barringer is the only program of its kind in the state of New Jersey. The program is designed to give students a broader view of the travel industry.

Students begin the program in the junior year, and continue it into their senior year, providing they can fit extra classes into their schedules. After completing the Junior year in the program, the participant is offered a job in the travel industry. Some of the locations students have worked are: Newark International Airport's Continental Airlines, National Car Rental, Nabisco, American Automobile Association, The Robin Hood Inn, Robert Treat Hotel and American Express.

The Program is supervised in Barringer by Mrs. Ann Marie Carrino. Mrs. Carrino introduces the world of travel to the students in the program, with the help of: Mr. Ralph Dellano, who teaches students how to write and review resumes; Mr. Vincent Immerso, who helps participants understand geography better; Ms. Dorothy Casey, who offers a broader view of computers; and Mr. William McGuinn, who gives students a taste of what careers there are in the industry.

"This act of kindness shows good character and service," said the advisor, Ms. Donna Stridacchio, of the The National Honor Society. On December 15, 1995 the Honor Society visited the United Childrens Hospital in Newark, to give the less fortunate children an enjoyable Christmas celebration. The members of the group, under the direction of Ms. S., brought the children toys and candy for Chistmas.

According to Ms. Stridacchio, "This was not just a good act for the members, but it came from the heart. These children needed someone to make them feel special, and the Honor Society did that". Many of these children come from abusive homes, and are neglected by their parents.

The Honor Society did this as part of their service and character as members. Ms. S. added, "The Honor Society is an outstanding group. It was very nice to see our students in a different atmosphere. Their warmth and expression towards the children was admirable".

The students that attended were C. Rodriguez, D. Vega, K. Villalobos, S. Arroyo, M. Nunez, R. Acosta, J. Flores, M. Davis, and S. Garces.

Friendship

Friendship is loyalty, brother/sisterhood, caring about an individual in a special way. That person who looks out for you; shares the same, or similar thoughts or feelings. Someone who knows you so thoroughly, you don't have to pretend with them. They know and accept all your flaws, regardless of who and what you may be.

With a friend you share the most embarrassing moments of your life. And he, or she may some day tease you about those incidents- but together you will always be able to laugh about them.

When you're lucky enough to have a real friend, you share a mental connection with another human being. That person can sense your every move, and sometimes even complete your thoughts. A true friendship is like crystal stairs. You must tread carefully, if you want to preserve it.

GRADUATES

One of the most important happenings in a person's life is graduation from high school. It is a special event because you say good-bye to those you have spent the last four years with, if not longer. Walking down the aisle makes you aware that you are walking away from the first half of your life, and about to enter the second stage, otherwise called adulthood.

Closing this section of your life is never easy, however as you strive for success, you will carry these memories with you forever. Realizing the accomplishments that you have achieved, will help you understand the direction you must follow.

Graduation inspires us to look to the future. When we finally leave Barringer as alumni, we should never forget: If your mind can conceive it, your heart can believe it, then your hands can achieve it, you'll be able to do any thing and go anywhere.

During the meetings of this club students play games, and trade cultural interests. The members agreed that the fun loving part of this activity are the trips. The group takes two excursions during the year, one in the fall, and the other in the spring. This year they visited the Montclair Museum, and later indulged in an all you can eat competition at Sizzler's restaurant in Caldwell. They usually end their visitation day with some shopping and award giving.

The graduating class of 1995 is to be commended for their diligence and perseverance. In the midst of state, and district testing, and Middle States Evaluation preparation, it seemed the year was spent on achieving standards of acceptability.

Readiness is now - potential must be placed on hold. Social and emotional development was placed on pause.

Whether you succeeded now, or you succeed later, develop and maintain high expectation for yourself. Establish who you are, and what you stand for. Remember always that mistakes are expected, and forgiveness begins with yourself.

Best wishes for a future which brings you happiness and satisfaction.

“I love baseball. Once we were losing a tight game, but I got a hit and we won by one run.”

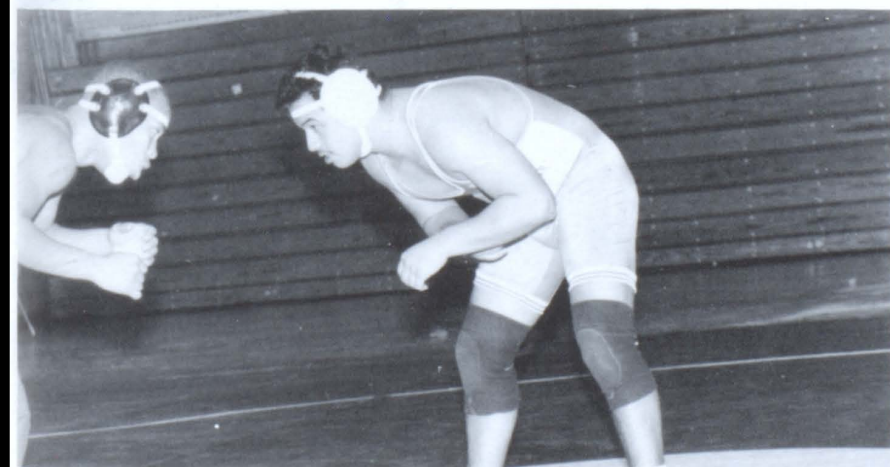

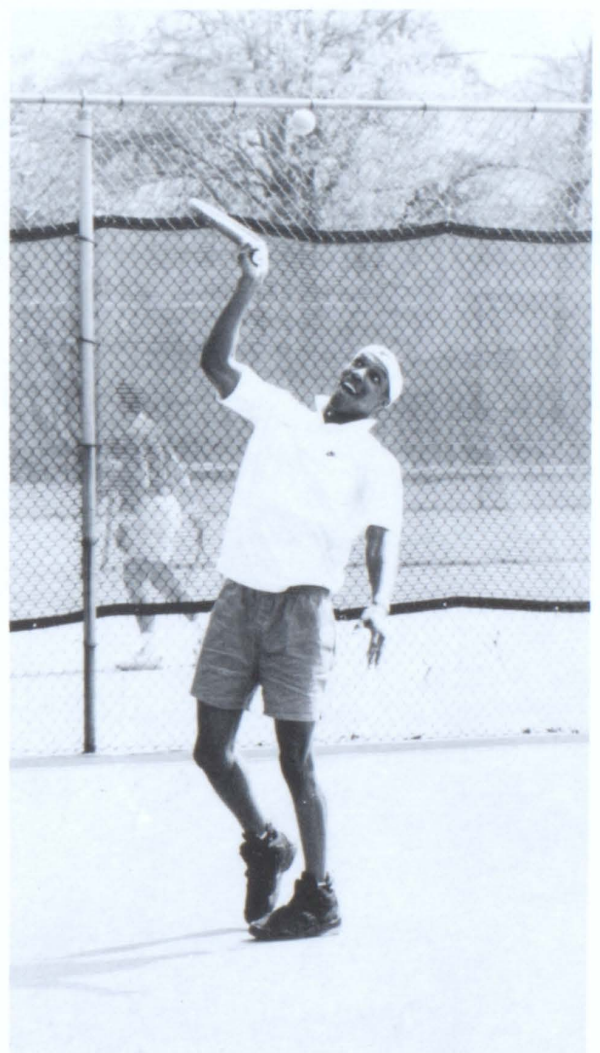

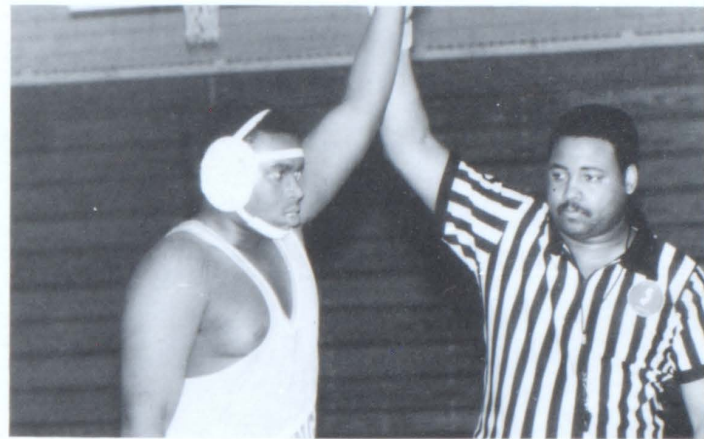

“In all my years at Barringer, I was always active in sports. It didn't matter whether we won or lost, it was the fun of the game that I'll always remember.”

“My fondest memory of Barringer is contributing to the football team. Although we suffered through a losing season, I still felt as if I was a part of a family.”

They were determined, and driven to succeed. According to their coaches, each player on the football team demonstrated the many winning qualities that could have turned a loss into a win. But lack of experience, and of course, a little luck, caused our team to suffer another losing season. But returning players, and coaches are prepared for next season, which will hopefully create more depth with new players. 1994-95 football team- Head coach, Mr. R. Rodriguez, Asst. coaches, Mr. P. Since 1993 I have gotten to know you in many different ways and the experience has been pleasurable. I have learned a lot from you. I hope that the way I have learned from you, those individuals you meet in your future receive the same thing and that you too learn from them because that is why we are here in life, to learn from each other and share with each other. I wish that your future takes you to the pot of gold. LOTS OF LUCK.

Lo que graduación significa para mi

By Celeste Hernandez

Graduación significa para mi una experiencia maravillosa por ser la primera persona de mi familia en graduarse de escuela secundaria. Significa sobrepasar todas las estadísticas que hay sobre las minorías. Probarle a todo el mundo que yo como mujer Latina estoy y continuare logrando mis sueños.

Graduación significa para mi poder demostrarle a mi hermanito que a pesar de lo que la gente haga o diga todo en la vida se puede lograr si uno se lo propone. Significa para mi una manera de demostrarle a mis padres que todo su esfuerzo y apoyo a lo último fue lo que me dio el ánimo y la motivación para continuar. Finalmente, graduación significa para mi que aunque a veces las cosas se vieron difícil y quise darme por vencida, recobre mis fuerzas, seguí hacia delante y aquí estoy.

your future? PLANS A CHOICES

Graduation means a time of sharing memories, receiving diplomas, and many other honors and awards. Graduation to me is also the time to look back and say to yourself "I made it", and you have done your best to get to that final day of your schooling (unless you decide to further your education).

Graduation is especially important to me because as an intelligent young black male you need at least a High School diploma to make it in today's world.

Graduation also means the opening to many doors of opportunity and sometimes long lasting careers of luxury.

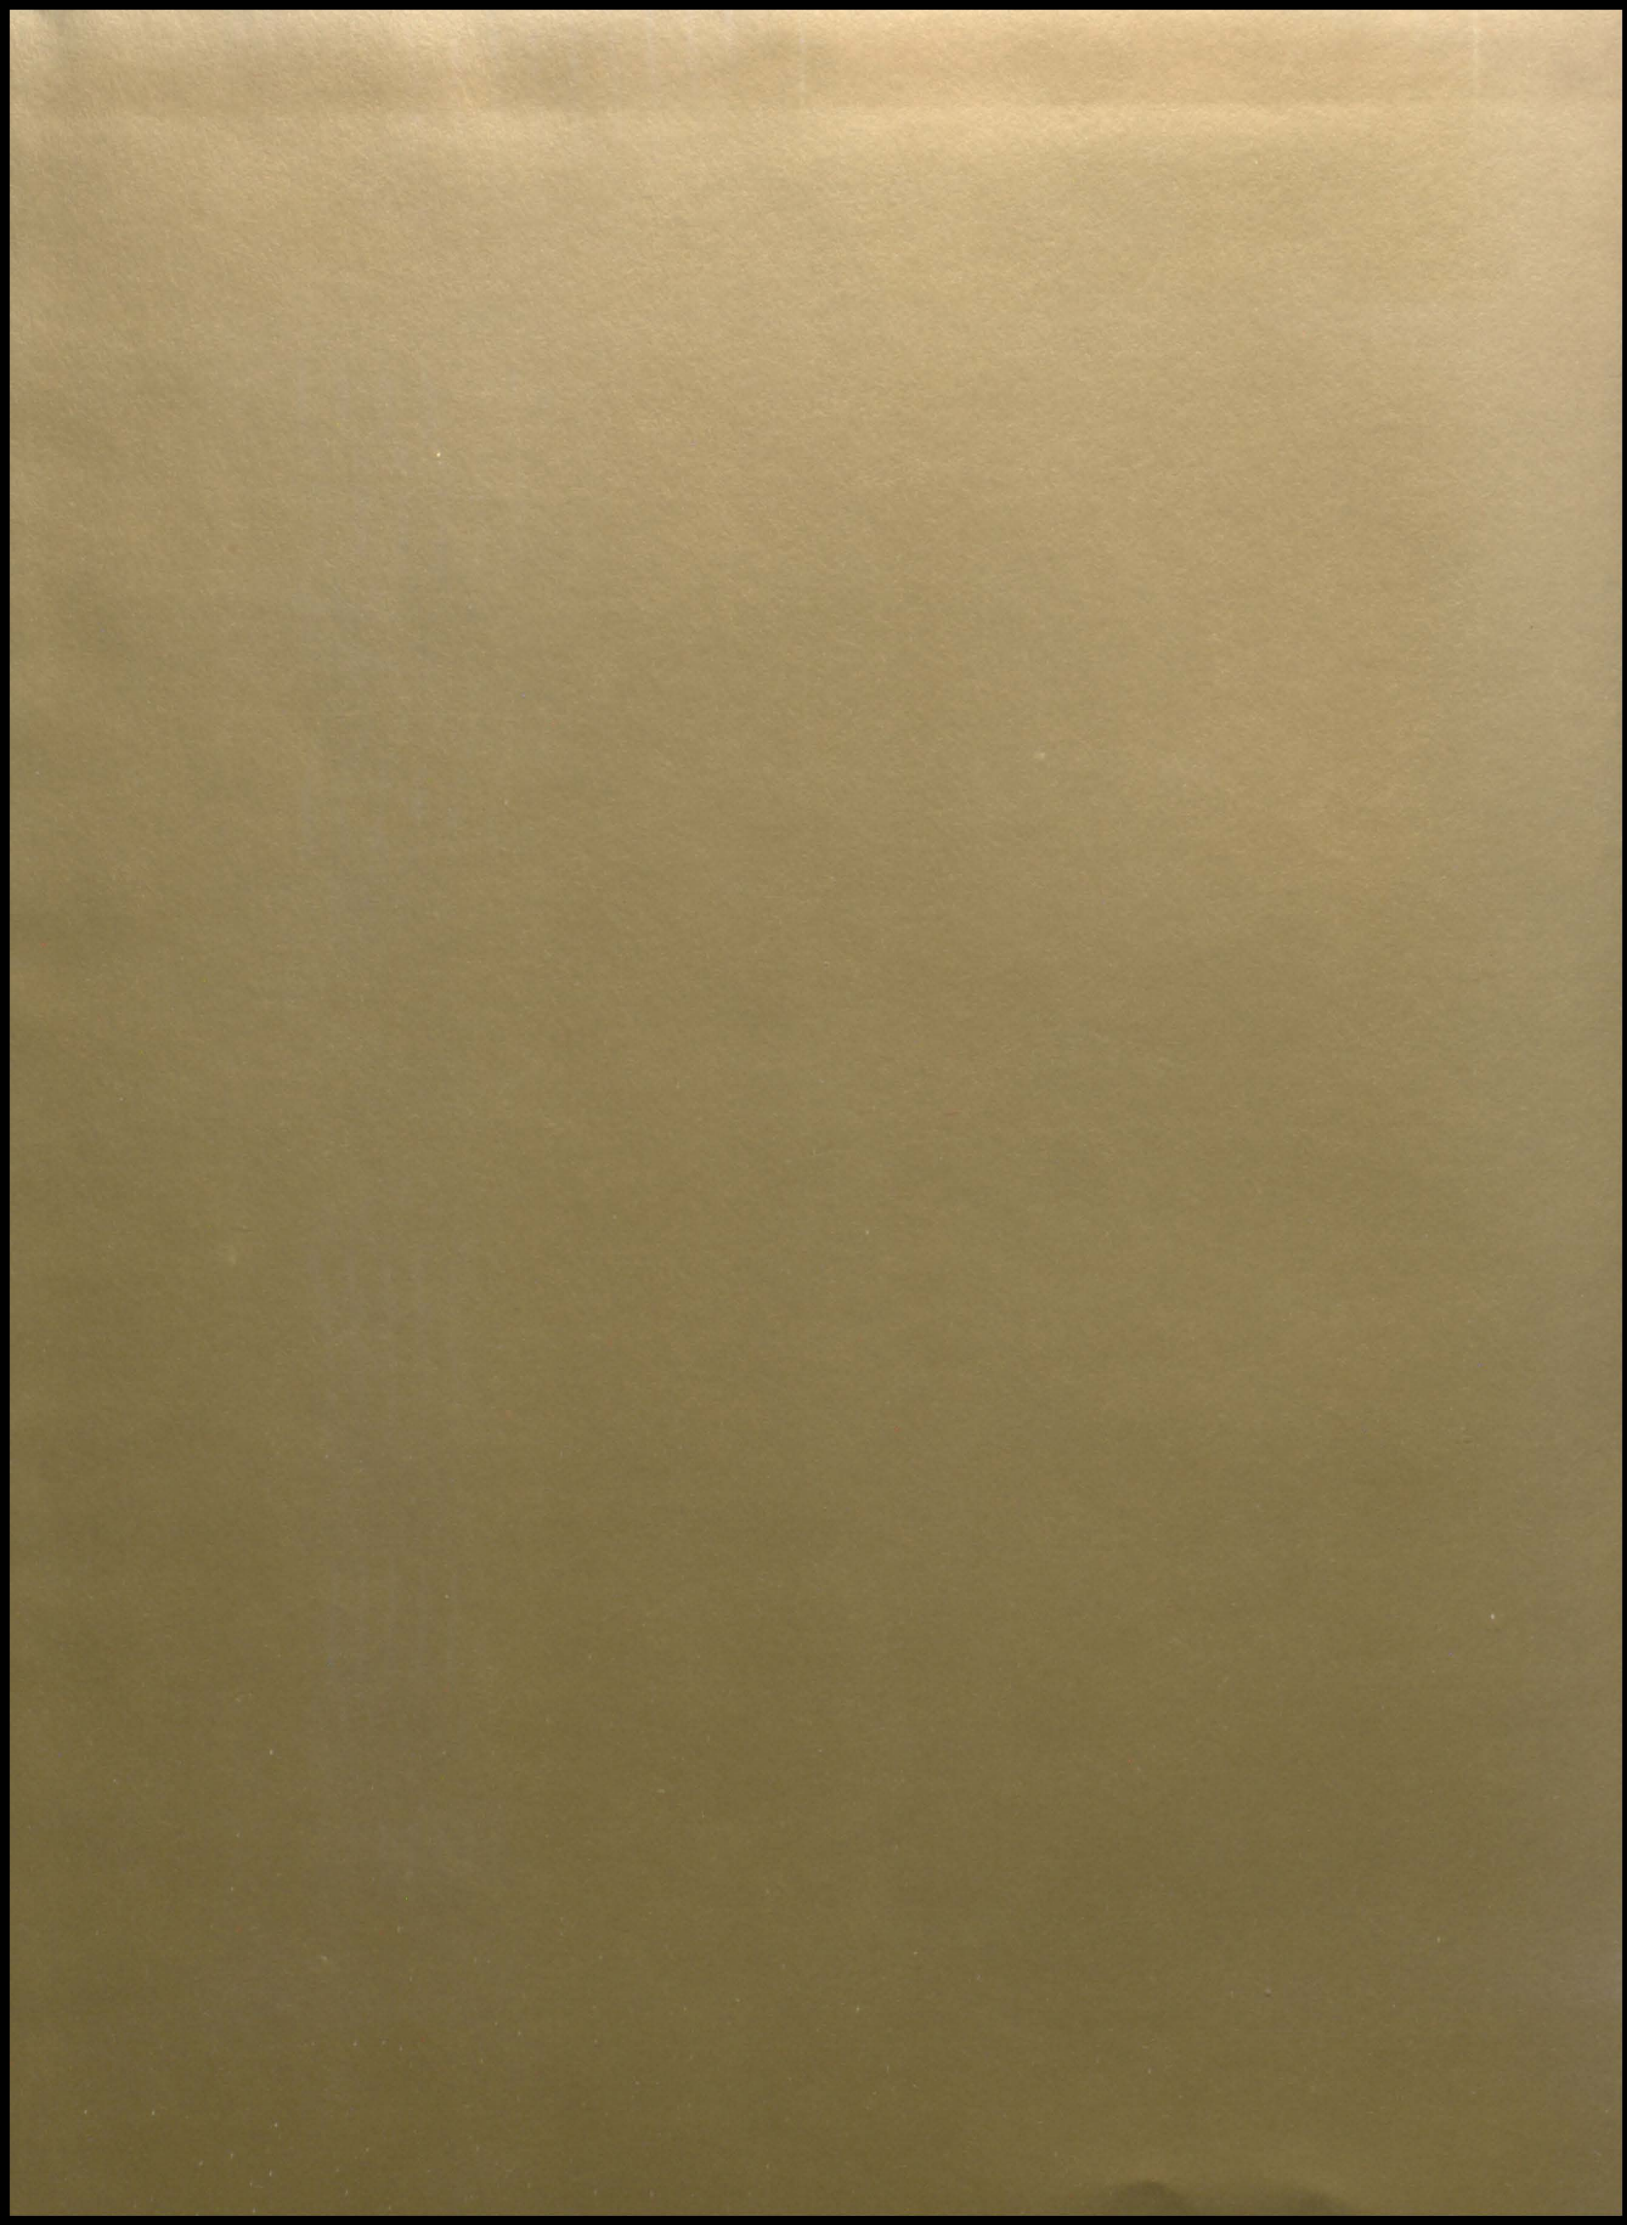

This is what graduation means to me.
